

INTERESTED IN FINANCIAL AID?

Tasks To Do in the Financial Aid Process

Financial Aid Office | Revised: 6.18.21

Dear Applicant,

We're pleased you're interested in attending NWC! To help you pursue financial aid resources, the Financial Aid Office offers you this reference checklist.

While this is not an exhaustive list of everything to do to explore every type of financial aid at NWC, working your way through these items will help guide you through applying for the "BIG 3": Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), NWC scholarships, & WY Hathaway Scholarships. Contact us for more information on the financial aid process.

Opportunity awaits! ☺

TO DO LIST

Admissions Office

REMINDERS

Priority Deadlines – The priority deadline for applying for federal financial aid is March 1st for the fall semester and October 1st for the spring semester. If you submit paperwork after the priority date you may not have your financial aid process completed by the first day of classes and other payment arrangements might need to be made. Additionally, you may miss out on certain types of first come, first awarded campus-based aid. So, apply early and contact the Financial Aid Office when you have questions.

Responsibilities – The Business Office reminds you that you are expected to pay for all your tuition, fees, room and board on the first day of classes. If your financial aid doesn't fully satisfy your semester's bill, the Monthly Payment Plan is an option to consider. Visit the Business Office for payment info, deadlines and other information, or call 307-754-6048 with questions.
