

I will be presenting my experiences through an internship held through NWC at the Homesteader Museum in Powell, Wyoming. The purpose of the presentation will be to show my internship experiences and demonstrate what I have learned. I have tracked down information through databases and learned the importance of exhibit structure. I demonstrate the importance of local museums and local history. I will show the process of my research as well as the culmination of my research being an exhibit released to the public on May 1st. The theme of the exhibit will be on the local Civilian Conservation Corp camps around Powell and compare the lives of those serving in the CCC to my experiences as a Wildland Firefighter. I came to this topic through my own interests in firefighting and narrowed down my topic to specific letters by George Moran, who served in the CCC in the Powell area. These letters have been the center of my internship and exhibit.
