

Imagine building a ladder. Taking your time to make sure every step is perfect. Now imagine what people might use it for, changing lights or reaching the top shelf like my sister. Four hunters in 2022 used a modified ladder to do hunting. They were later sued for 9 million dollars. So today let's talk about what corner crossing is, how it affects people, animals, and the environment, before ending by talking about what some people are doing to fix this problem.